BIOGRAPHY - DR. DONALD E. WETMORE

Dr. Wetmore received his Bachelor's Degree in Accounting from Bentley College, his Master's Degree in Business Administration from Babson College, and his Juris Doctor Degree from Suffolk University Law School. He is a Professional Member of the National Speakers Association.

He is an attorney, an entrepreneur having started over twenty-five businesses and is a former member of the faculty in Mercy College's MBA program in Dobbs Ferry, New York, where he has served as Assistant Professor of Business Law and Department Chair for the undergraduate and graduate divisions. He is the author of "Beat the Clock", "Organizing Your Life", "The Productivity Handbook" and over 100 of published articles. He is frequently interviewed by major media including ABC Radio, The New York Times, and the Dallas Morning News. He has appeared extensively on radio and television and served as the host of the cable TV program, "It's the Law".

Don created the Productivity Institute to conduct his original and unique Time Management and Personal Productivity seminars for organizations from around the world. Having been in the field of Time Management for many years, he created his programs to address the specific Time Management needs of all who want more out of life. In his time management and speed reading seminars, coaching, keynotes, and consulting, he teaches participants how to significantly increase their personal productivity, both on and off the job, and accomplish more in less time with less stress with greater work/life balance. His presentations are always entertaining, fast-paced, and filled with practical, common sense tools. His audiences say, "He is one of the funniest and most engaging speakers available today." He is recognized as one of the country's leading authorities on the topics of Time Management and Personal Productivity.

He has made over 2,000 domestic and international speaking presentations before more than 100,000 people from around the Globe, sharing his unique philosophy about the Time Management and Personal Productivity principles and tools he has created motivating his audiences to advance in their own lives.

Don and his wife Nancy are the parents of four children, each of whom is an excellent time manager.
