

Michael Cronin

Michael is Co-Founder and Managing Partner of Weston Presidio. Weston Presidio provides growth capital to companies in the consumer, business services, and industrial growth sectors. Since its founding in 1991, the firm has managed five investment funds aggregating over $3.3B in total commitments.

Prior to the formation of Weston Presidio, Michael served as the senior vice president of Security Pacific Venture Capital Group and managing director of its Boston Office.

Michael has served on numerous public and private companies' Board of Directors. He has also served on the National Association of Small Business Investment Companies' Board of Governors as well as the National Venture Capital Association's Board of Directors.

He also is the Alumni Chairman of Harvard Student Agencies, Treasurer of the Harvard Club of Boston and Trustee of the Loeb Classical Library. He is a Director of the Beth Israel Deaconess Medical Center and chairs their Foundation Committee. He also serves on the Investment Committee of the Wheaton College Endowment. He was Chairman of the Harvard Business School Fund and was an Overseer of Harvard University.

Michael and his wife Marian Miller Cronin live in Weston, MA and have three children.

Paul Hartnett

Paul Hartnett is an attorney who has more than 30 years experience representing public and privately held companies, nationally and internationally, in connection with their growth and expansion through a variety of strategies, including mergers and acquisitions, venture financings, and the public offerings of securities. He has provided clients with legal, strategic and business advice and assistance covering a broad range of issues, including acquisition and growth structures and strategies, debt and equity financings, employment and pension issues, and environmental, regulatory and antitrust issues. In working with his clients, Paul's responsibilities have included direct advice and counsel to senior management and boards of directors; and the management and coordination of the services provided by tax and pension advisors, investment bankers, and accountants.

A former partner in two different major Boston-based law firms, Paul is currently working independently in an office based in Newton, Massachusetts.